Professional Career

Having trained with a city firm, I set up the Tax Department in Martin Green Ravden, Chartered Accountants. I then joined Coopers & Lybrand (now PwC) in 1987, becoming their International Tax Partner in 1990 until 1995. During this period I advised a number of well-known figures in the entertainment industry as well as many high net worth individuals on a wide variety of tax issues.

Since 1995 I have been running my own bespoke tax practice advising both private individuals as well as businesses in respect of their tax affairs.

I joined Frenkels Forensics as their tax consultant in 2011 and advise them on tax matters that arise during the course of their case work.

During the course of my career I have lectured extensively both in the UK and abroad.
